

Los Angeles Herald.

SUNDAY, JAN. 4, 1874.

The DAILY HERALD has nearly DOUBLE the Circulation of either contemporary paper published in Los Angeles. As an advertising medium it is consequently of DOUBLE their value.

Shall it be a Fight?

We have lately called attention in the HERALD to the bad quality of the gas furnished to consumers in this city, and the high price charged for it. We have done this in the interest of the people, believing that their claims are paramount to those of any clique or combination, not with the view of getting up a fight, but hoping to secure reform in a matter that certainly needs amendment. The Gas Company originally intended to consist of a number of our citizens, and thus be identified with the other interests of the place, has gradually passed into the hands of a few individuals, and these parties choose to consider the course of the HERALD as a personal grievance. When the HERALD was established, one of the principal stockholders of the Gas Company, who is also in other business, was solicited for an advertisement by the proprietor. A very insignificant one was furnished, accompanied with the very significant remark that in other ways he would be able to give the new paper important assistance. He was promptly informed that the HERALD only desired legitimate business, and that only in the regular way.

Judging probably from his experience with the other city papers, this gentle hint produced no lasting effect, and on the appearance of an article in the HERALD some time afterwards, advocating the lighting of the streets, another member of the same firm, also interested in gas visited this office, and unblushingly offered us one hundred dollars to continue the articles. The only answer he received was a dissolving view of the back of the proprietor, who suddenly remembered that he had business in some other place. No further articles of that character appeared in this paper, but on the contrary when we had sufficiently investigated the matter, and became satisfied that the Gas Company was simply a machine for plundering the people of this city, we opened our guns on the monopoly. This course has brought down upon our heads the wrath of the party whose proffered bribe was spurned, and we have received formal notice of his hostility. His three dollar advertisement has been ostentatiously ordered out, and he is no doubt at this moment sneaking around the city, trying to induce others to withdraw their support from the HERALD. The policy of this chief member of the company seems to be to share the proceeds of his public plunder, in the shape of bribes, with the press, as long as it will do its dirty work, but to use every effort to crush a paper that has the courage to take up the cudgel in behalf of the public good.

Though entertaining nothing but the kindest feelings for him personally, we gladly accept the contest thus forced upon us; we shall hold the Gas Company, however, responsible for his acts. He is acting for the company and is inspired by it. It is the Gas Company that propose to buy or intimidate the press of this city, and having secured the silence of the other papers, it concentrates its hostility on the HERALD.

We shall expect the bitter opposition of the Gas ring and any kindred combinations, but we confidently expect the support of the people, and with them on our side, we have little fear of the result. Still, while we intend to fight this monopoly to the bitter end, we have no desire to do the slightest injustice to any one, and as before stated, we are willing to open our columns to a defence of the company, if any one chooses to employ them for that purpose.

We have asserted that the price charged for gas is an exorbitant one, even if the gas furnished were of good quality. We reiterate that charge, and defy a successful denial. In Oakland, the paradise of gas manufacturers, the price is only $4.50 while here it is $7.50. In Sacramento the street lamps are lighted for $3.50 per month, while here something over $6 is asked. Gas bills are simply enormous, and out of all proportion with the amount furnished. We have asserted that the gas is of miserable quality. We challenge contradiction on this point. We do not get gas, but smoke. It falls so far below the standard, that in no part of the country would it be recognized as gas at all. It smells fearfully, fills the room with an offensive smoke when burning, and is only tolerable because nothing better is at hand.

The company pretends to have the exclusive right to manufacture and sell this miserable stuff for the next thirteen years, and its shareholders are pocketing enormous dividends from the profits of their monopoly. The fallacy of this claim can easily be established. No City Council has the right to grant exclusive privileges, and the courts will not uphold any such invasion of the rights of the people. If we are wrong here, we are willing to be set right.

Again we have asserted that the location of the gas works in the midst of the city is a nuisance. It fills all that part of the city with a disagreeable stench, and reduces materially the value of property. The damage to the material interests of property holders in that neighborhood is more than the entire cost of two such establishments, and health, comfort and convenience alike, call for their removal. Does anybody deny this, and if they do, will they dare to openly proclaim the reasons for the faith that is in them?

About "Organs."

The Express believes that the sole and aim of a newspaper is to become the "organ" of some individual, or clique, and it is unable to understand how any other kind of a relation can exist between a public journal and a corporation. Hence it is in great trouble to know how the HERALD and the Chamber of Commerce, holding different views on the harbor question, manage to get along in amity, and why we publish the views of that body, when they so pointedly contradict our own.

The Express is informed that this paper is in no sense the "organ" of the Chamber of Commerce. That body when it subscribed for one hundred copies of the WEEKLY HERALD did so because they thought it the best paper in Los Angeles, and desired to distribute it in the East for the enlightenment of people who may be looking to Southern California as a possible future home. They did not imagine that by so doing they had bribed this paper to support any particular policy, or to publish only such articles as they might approve. We take it, that these gentlemen are too high-minded and honorable to buy newspapers or newspaper men; and that they have no confidence in a paper that has no opinions of its own.

On the other hand, we are not to be bought by a few subscriptions or a small advertisement. We say what we think, and what we believe to be for the public good, without asking anybody's permission, and we expect to continue in the same line. This is no reason, however, why we should refuse respectful consideration to the views of others, and the sentiments of the Chamber of Commerce, or any other body of our citizens will always receive candid treatment at our hands, no matter how seriously they may differ from those held by the editor of this paper.

We should hardly deem it necessary to give expression to principles so trite, were it not that the course of journalism in this city has been such as to lead people to think that there is neither independence nor honesty in it. The Express, by its pandering, pettifogging course, has shown that it does not understand the mission of a newspaper, and we therefore give it this little lecture gratis.

SOME time since we assured the Southern District Agricultural Association that unless some guarantees were made to the Farmers that their interests should be better represented in the future than in the past, a new Grangers' organization would be the result; that result has now come. Articles of incorporation have been adopted and all the necessary steps taken to form a new society, not in opposition to the old, but one that will represent agricultural interests.

EACH week the Grangers of Los Angeles county and vicinity are acquiring strength. An iron-clad association for the disposition of produce and for transacting a general mercantile business, is now forming. We shall print on Tuesday the full proposition

Messmer goes for the Council.

EDITOR HERALD:—I beg your permission to insert this article in your valuable paper, knowing you are willing and anxious to publish and make known anything that is astir in our midst, and especially anything which will advance the interests of our city.

The city of Los Angeles is to-day probably the finest located in the world—amongst orange trees, and where it is sunshine all the year round; where people move to and fro without suffering from severe cold or intense heat; where we should all be happy and try to encourage every one in improving our city. This is done by almost every one except one body, which goes by the name of the City Fathers. They alone discourage and throw obstacles in my way almost all the time, the latest of which was at their last meeting, when they refused to let me grade my portion of Los Angeles street, which I was doing. If it was not on the right grade, why don't they establish one, to which I will conform?

Now, I appeal to the good judgment of the people of Los Angeles City. If I have not a right to fill up the street on which my property is situated when it is low in the middle and high on both sides, and when I am willing to conform to the city grade, No. the City Fathers are not satisfied to let me grade it, but would like to grade the whole street, and charge me about four times the amount for which I can grade the same myself.

Have we not had enough of such work? Has not every Councilman lined his pockets in former years? And are not these present City Fathers following in their forefathers' tracks by stopping me in improving the city of Los Angeles? Why is it they are so anxious to become City Fathers? This is a problem which cannot be solved by anyone except an Alderman, who knows what to do for his own pocket as soon as the idea strikes him to run for that office. They do nothing to improve the city. Look at every street in this city, and see what a miserable condition it is in; not a decent crossing—a little red clay straw here and there. Why don't they pass an ordinance requiring every property-holder to grade the portion of the street in front of his property, and make nice sidewalks, and then what a change there would be!

This has been my wish for many years, and it will most undoubtedly be for a few years more—until at least a new, energetic, civilized population comes in here and roots out the old foggies from place and power; not until then will our city improve; the different undeveloped interests which are now sleeping in their unexplored elements will then bring to light wonders to those who are living for nothing but money. Hoping yet fearing the contrary, that that time is at no distant date, I am, yours, etc., LOUIS MESMER, Los Angeles, January 3, 1874.

Who should be District Judge?

Now that Judge Pablo de la Guerra has resigned, his failing health making it necessary, the question rises to the lips of all citizens having some interest in public affairs: "Who will Governor Booth appoint his successor?" We change the question, and ask, "Who should Governor Booth appoint as Judge De la Guerra's successor?"

We have carefully canvassed and considered this matter, and believe that the appointment of Judge Lindsey of Ventura county, would be agreeable to the attorneys, and would give satisfaction to the people of this District. Personally, we have but a little acquaintance with Judge Lindsey, but there are attorneys practicing in this District who have known him intimately for many years, who pronounce his moral habits unexceptional, his learning and legal ability of a high order, and what is not least in importance, who pronounce him a man of unimpeachable integrity.

Without inveigling against others, we would ask Governor Booth in behalf of what we believe to be the interests and the will of the people, that he appoint Judge Curtis Lindsey to the bench of this Judicial District.

His various traits have been surveyed, and platted in lots of convenient size for residences, upwards of two hundred in number, and the maps, together with abstracts of title, are kept for public inspection at his office, opposite the Post House.

Any person desiring to purchase can inspect the land, select his lot or lots, and acquire the same, if not previously taken up by another, upon the following terms: Purchasers not being restricted to a single lot.

The purchaser or his successor to pay the fixed price of the lands selected by him, in equal monthly installments, as follows: On lots valued at $400 and upwards, but not to exceed $500, $15 per month; on those valued at $300 and upwards, and less than $400, $10 per month. Payments in gold or currency, and no interest demanded. For cash in hand a reduction of fifteen per cent. will be made.

The purchaser to have immediate possession upon payment of the first installment and on execution and delivery of contract.

The right of the purchasers may be assignable by him, and his assigns to succeed to all his privileges and liabilities; standing in all respects towards the vendor original obligation.

Purchasers shall not be restricted to the payment of the installments as above named, but may make payment in advance, and on all such payments he will allow one per cent. per month, from the date of payment until said payment would become due.

Upon selection of a lot or lots by a purchaser, and payment of the first installment with five dollars, in U. S. gold coin, as expenses on the document, Mr. Beaudry with the purchaser, will execute and acknowledge a sealed agreement, embodying the above conditions; and, upon full payment, according thereto, the undersigned will execute and deliver to the purchaser, or his lawful representatives, on demand, a good and sufficient and absolute deed of conveyance of the contracted lands, in form of warranty against grantor, the grantee paying the cost of such deed.

These proposals will be kept open until the 12th day of February, 1874.

The location is very desirable. All that has heretofore been lacking is water, and that want is now fulfilled. Anywhere else, in as desirable location, lots readily command from $500 to $1,000 and even higher rates. This property is put at the astonishing low price of from $300 to $400. But this is not all. This may be paid in currency and a reduction of fifteen per cent will be made for cash in hand.

The silver wedding of S. B. Caswell took place last night. Many friends were present, and the affair generally was a happy occasion.

The regular District Council is by order the second Tuesday in February. Let all Grange Trustees remember this.

The races will now come off to-morrow. No further postponement unless the clerk of the weather should send another dash of rain.

The Sabbath School of the Fort street Methodist Church, will give a concert at this church this evening. A general invitation is extended to all, and a pleasant time is anticipated.

We noticed an inebriated individual doing his level best to hold up Perry & Woodworth's lumber office, last evening, but two policemen, not appreciating his efforts, and intent on a fee, aroused him, after much trouble, and marched him off.

The Concert to-morrow evening will be one of those old-fashioned Sunday School concerts at the Fort street Methodist Church. These concerts, in times past, used to attract crowded audiences of pleased listeners, and no doubt will again.—[Mirr.]

At the election of the Southern District Agricultural Association this afternoon, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: J. G. Downey, President; I. W. Hellman, Treasurer; B. C. Truman, Secretary; J. J. Griffin, L. J. Rose, Geo. R. Butler, Wm. Ferguson, Wm. H. Workman, O. W. Childs, H. D. Barrows, Trustees.

We have received a note from E. Lipsis, of the Fanny Morgan Dramatic Troupe, in which he states that the combination will be in Los Angeles in about six weeks. Mr. Lipsis was here some time since with the Leroy-Duret troupe, and his return will be hailed with pleasure by our amusement-loving citizens.

The Skating Rink was first opened last night under its new auspices. The hall was quite well filled with a very genteel house, all of whom seemed to enjoy the exercise. Mr. Gray, the new manager, was all kindness and attention, and it seems not unlikely that the pleasant times of old under Mr. Bent are again with the young people. Many were the tumbles received, but the recipient is soon recovered and was himself again.

Meetings of Grangers.

The Board of Directors of the "Agricultural Exposition of Southern California" who were elected by the County Council of Patrons of Husbandry Saturday, are requested to meet at the office of the Mutual Aid Association, No. 41 Temple block, this city, on Friday, January 9th at 10 o'clock A. M., to perfect their articles of incorporation. The list of Directors is published elsewhere.

The committee to take into consideration the resolutions offered by L. M. Holt to organize a "Grange Co-operative Company," are also requested to meet at the same time and place. The Masters of Granges of Los Angeles and San Bernardino county, are requested to meet in this city on the same day, to consider a memorial to the Legislature.

New Years' Races.

Our enterprising friends of the Clarendon, though disappointed by the weather in fully carrying out the splendid programme they had prepared on the days advertised, are yet determined that the races shall be a success, and announce that they will on Monday and Tuesday complete the races so well begun on Thursday.

Monday at 1 o'clock P. M. the first race announced for Friday will come off. It is a mile dash for a purse of $100, free to all except Irene Harding. Several entries have been made, and it promises to be an exciting incident of the meeting.

The second race, which is set for 2 P. M. is a trotting match of a mile and repeat for a purse of $50, five dollars entrance fee, to go with the purse. Second horse to save his entrants. This race is for two-year-olds, and is free for the stake.

On Tuesday at 1 P. M. the grand feature of the meeting, the "Ladies' Photor race comes off." Many of our fair friends who are adept at handling the ribbons, are expecting to take part in the competition, and we can assure the public that this race alone will be well worth a visit to the park.

Following at two, the scarcely less exciting Hurdle race of one mile over four hurdles, for a purse of $25, will take place. The entrance fee is $10, to go with the purse, second horse to save his entrants, each horse to carry 150 pounds; free to all.

The third and last is a trotting race, three in five, to harness, free to all horses that have never beaten three minutes, for a purse of $100, $75 to first, and $25 to second.

A splendid band has been engaged for the occasion, and will entertain the meeting with appropriate music. The track is in magnificent condition, the recent showers have freshened up the face of nature, and cleared the atmosphere, and with fair ladies, gallant men, and prancing steeds to enliven the scene, there can be no doubt that the Park will be the center of attraction.

The men of the Clarendon know how to keep a hotel, and from the way they start out, we are confident that they are also equal to the task of providing a first-class entertainment for all who enjoy the excitement of the race-track.

OUR BUSINESS HOUSES.

THE CERRO GORDO FREIGHTING COMPANY.

Every day our readers notice in the HERALD the arrival of teams from Cerro Gordo with bullion, and their departure for that place and Lone Pine, laden with goods, but few of them are aware of the extent of this business.

Under the careful management of Mr. Nadeau the Cerro Gordo Freighting Company have established a regular line of heavy wagons for the transportation of freight, and every day two ponderous teams leave our city loaded with general merchandise, while two arrive loaded with bullion. These teams consist of from twelve to fourteen mules attached to two heavy wagons coupled together, one behind the other. The load is from three and a half to four tons for each wagon, or from seven to eight tons for each team, so that the daily receipts of bullion by this line is fifteen or sixteen tons.

To maintain regular arrivals and departures it takes forty-eight regular teams, besides six or eight extras, that make side trips or fill the place of a disabled team. The distance from Los Angeles to Cerro Gordo is about 225 miles, and eleven stations are maintained, at all of which goods are delivered, and also to Lone Pine and Independence.

Three companies are now engaged in producing the bullion, and as they are extending their works, and increasing the product, the freighting company will soon add to their present force, as they are even now unable to get the bullion away as fast as the sinking of the Virginian.

The Reformed Episcopal Church. Regular services of the Reformed Episcopal Church will begin in Steinway Hall to-morrow. Bishop Cummins will preach. The Bishop says it would be premature to give in detail the names of well known laymen and clergymen, of this city, who may be expected to give in their adhesion to the new church, but there is abundant proof that the spirit of considerable portions of the Protestant Episcopal Church, in New York is ripe for this departure. The accession of the Rev. Dr. Goldard, Rector of one of the largest and most important churches on Staten Island is a good sign. Numerous letters from clergymen of other denominations, expressing a readiness to take part in the work have been received. Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist ministers have expressed a desire to take charge of new organizations in this movement.

MADRID, Jan. 3.

President Castellar recommends the passing of bills providing for free public instruction and the abolition of involuntary servitude and slavery on both sides of the Atlantic. He says: "You must first establish a stable government, then European powers will soon recognize the republic. No nation has any irremovable antipathy to the republic; all countries desire to see order maintained and protection given to its immense commercial interests." Castellar promises to lay before the Cortes all documents in relation to the Virginian affair. These, he says, will demonstrate that war is to be avoided while the principles of international law are upheld.

Gen Howard's Little Irregularities.

The same dispatch says a letter was received here this evening from a gentleman now a resident of Baltimore, but formerly a clerk in the employ of General George W. Bullock, Chief Disbursing Officer of the Freedman's Bureau under Howard. The writer of the letter says it was his duty while in the service of the Bureau to examine vouchers each and every month, and also to make out the pay rolls. He avers that horses and carriages for the private use of General Howard and members of his staff and summer vacations for favorite clerks, including their traveling expenses, were provided and paid for with money belonging to the Government. The wife of Captain Sladen, a member of Howard's staff, was put on the pay rolls under her maiden name; that Howard's coachman was put on the pay rolls, as was also the wife of one Captain Girard, while she had no appointment and did no duty whatever. In conclusion he states there are many other irregularities which ought to be made public, and he volunteers to give his testimony before the committee at a few months.
